From the Director

Pierre Augustin Caron de Beaumarchais (1732-1799), a French writer, wrote an opera libretto and offered it to the management of the Théâtre de la Foire, the predecessor of the Opéra Comique in Paris. The libretto was rejected because the first baritone of this Paris opera company had been a barber and refused to play such a character on stage. So Beaumarchais changed his opera libretto into a play, a very successful play. Since the first performance in 1775, this play has been part of the standard repertoire of the Comédie Française, the most important theatre company in France.

The play was transformed into an opera by the famous Giovanni Paisiello, court composer of Empress Katharina II (the Great) of Russia. The opera premiered in 1782 in St. Petersburg. Successful performances followed in Vienna, Paris, London, Berlin, and many other European cities. Even Mozart was influenced by this piece. He wrote a special aria for Rosina to be inserted in the opera (KV 580), and of course was responsible for the sequel to The Barber of Seville: The Marriage of Figaro. The Paisiello Barber was one of the few 18th century operas that was still played in the beginning of the 19th century.

But Paisiello's success did not last: the young Italian composer Gioacchino Rossini was asked to write a new opera for the 1816 Carnival in Rome. (He was 24 years old, younger than many of the singers you will hear tonight.) There was no time for a new libretto, so Rossini chose The Barber of Seville in an adaptation by Cesare Sterbini. The opening night was a disaster, but the second performance proved that Rossini had written a masterpiece. Since that time, millions of people have seen and enjoyed it.

What is the opera about? Is it still a political piece (as was Beaumarchais' play)? I do not think so. Rossini's Barber is about young people in love and an older man who is fooled by them. The result is a wonderful situation comedy.

Today, one still can find barbers in Italy like Figaro, the clever go-between. But they are not offering their services for free. Rossini's Barber will be even better understood by anybody who has ever been in Italy, a land full of chaos, but also full of romantic young men and women. The Italians have told stories like The Barber of Seville in many ways; the Commedia dell'Arte and the movies of the fifties are only a few examples.

— Hans Nieuwenhuis

Synopsis

Count Almaviva is in love with Dr. Bartolo's ward, the wealthy young Rosina, but he discovers that the elderly doctor plans to marry Rosina herself. With the help of the barber Figaro, Almaviva hides his noble rank and introduces himself to Rosina as Lindoro to test her love. Bartolo, aware that he has a rival, instructs Basilio to arrange the marriage immediately. Impatient to see his love, Almaviva disguises himself as a drunken soldier and claims he is to lodge in Bartolo's house. Bartolo is outraged, and has Almaviva arrested. Almaviva reveals his identity to an officer, who immediately releases him.

— Intermission —

In the second act, Almaviva again sneaks into Bartolo's house, this time disguised as a music teacher. While Bartolo sleeps, Rosina and Almaviva pretend to have a music lesson. Figaro steals a balcony key from Bartolo. That night, when Almaviva arrives through the balcony window, he reveals his true identity to Rosina. Basilio enters with a notary for the marriage of Bartolo and Rosina, but Figaro persuades him to marry the young woman to Almaviva instead. When Bartolo arrives with the police, the ceremony has already been completed. He is furious until he learns that he can keep Rosina's dowry.

About the Artists

Gioacchino Rossini (1792-1868) Known as the greatest Italian composer of his time, Rossini set new standards in the operatic field. His early works are known for their inherent charm, while his later works have a reputation for sophistication and maturity; all Rossini's creations combine many elements, including his love of sound and appreciation of rhythm. Rossini achieved international acclaim during his lifetime, with a body of work that included Semiramide, L'Italiana in Algeri, La Cenerentola, and Guillaume Tell. Premiering nine days before his twenty-fourth birthday, The Barber of Seville is known as Rossini's most popular comic opera, though it took him less than two weeks to complete. With thirty-four compositions under his belt by the age of thirty-one, Rossini's life was a roller-coaster of successes and lulls for almost eighty years. He retired at the age of thirty-four, and lived a life of relaxation and culinary opulence. He briefly began composing again in the late 1850s. Thousands mourned his death on November 13, 1868. As part of the celebration of the 200th anniversary of his birth, many arts companies around the world are presenting a wide range of his works, including lesser known but equally exciting operas as Tancredi, Il turco in Italia, La donna del lago, and Il viaggio a Reims.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN FRIENDS OF Opera

This year marks the eighteenth anniversary of the University of Michigan Friends of Opera, a group dedicated to providing support and encouragement to the opera program at the University of Michigan School of Music. The organization's primary function is to finance annual scholarships for voice majors at Michigan. This year, soprano Jennifer Fitch and tenor Mark Beudert are recipients of $1,500 and $2,500 scholarships, respectively.

Since its founding, Friends of Opera has sponsored numerous events, including an annual opera trip and special receptions for opera cast members and friends. The group also provides refreshments during the final week of opera rehearsals and performances for opera cast members. An annual scholarship winner's recital is held at Kerrytown Concert House each fall.

New members are always welcomed. Annual membership (tax deductible) entitles Friends to preferential seating, advanced notice about dates and productions, admission to rehearsals, bus trips to opera performances, and invitations to special receptions.

We are proud to be celebrating our fifteenth year in Ann Arbor. SchoolKids' has been rated as one of the top twenty music stores in the country. Here's what folks are saying about us:

"SchoolKids' is a genuine 'record store' in the classic sense; its atmosphere and its regard for the music it sells is clearly unique in the business. It does not underestimate the taste or intelligence of its customers. It carries the widest spectrum of music—all sorts of music—that I've ever seen anywhere. Its employees are helpful, knowledgeable fans of music rather than mere button pushers. Aside from the obvious hits, the store goes out of its way to carry titles that, however obscure, are genuinely GOOD—a trait which fellow customers respect and appreciate. It also has the best selection of deleted records and CDs I've ever seen."
